Serving The Lord In

Mexico

October 2003

Dear Praying Friends,

After only having about a year of learning the Spanish language, I found myself red-faced often as I would butcher the language when we were in Mexico earlier this year. Before church one night, I had a delicious meal at a church member's house. I was stuffed, but I did not know how to say it in Spanish. So, I was going to say, "Soy muy gordo," which means, "I am very fat." Instead, I said, "Soy muy guapo," which means, "I am very handsome." They all just looked at me and smiled, then slowly walked away. Have you ever wanted to crawl under a rock?

Deputation

Our God has really blessed us as we have traveled to 12 different churches in the last 2 months. Our support level has now risen to 40%. We have met many wonderful people and pastors in the different churches that we have visited. We have been showered with gifts and love from people who are serious about God's work. Sharon and I are grateful for the prayers that you have prayed on our behalf. Not only does God desire His people to pray that He would send forth laborers into His harvest, but also to pray for them as they get there. I trust our Lord will bless you in a special way for your part in His work.

Family

Our son Walker is finally living up to his name as he has finally started walking these last few weeks. Coby has made friends in every church that we have visited, and many he still remembers by name. In the nurseries, the ladies fight over who is going to hold our sweet little three month old, Callie.

Sharon and I will celebrate our 7th wedding anniversary on November 9th. Thank God for a wonderful helpmeet. She has been working in the office at the mission agency for 5 years now. We are thankful for this opportunity that the Lord has given us to learn more about missions.

Prayer Requests

Please pray with us as we begin to search for an inclosed trailer (17X7 ft.) in order to move our belongings to the field. Also we will be looking for a 15-passenger van to pull the trailer and use to transport people to and from church in Mexico. Also, my laptop died and I am in need of another.
