Serving The Lord In

Mexico

May 2005

Dear Praying Friends,

Greetings from Aguascalientes, Mexico. We have just moved into our house and are getting settled. God was so good to us by helping us get our trailer across the border. Thank you for your prayers. We were told by many people that we would never get it across. God is so good, so great, and so mighty; there is nothing that He cannot do! From the first Sunday we arrived, we have been involved in the ministry as much as possible. Sharon and Coby have already sung specials in Spanish at church. Sharon has kept the nursery and I have been out with the other missionaries knocking on doors, and going to Bible studies. (Not knowing the language fluently gives a whole new meaning of being a "silent partner" while soul-winning). The church we are attending is only about 6 months old and last Sunday was their record high with 41 in attendance.

Tips for Traveling #109

If you are packing to move and your kids love to play with stickers, don't leave a whole book of postage stamps where they can find them. By the way, does any one know how to get stamps off of a wooden coffee table?

Family

God has been so good to us as we know that Satan would love to see us fail. Two days after arriving, Walker fell out of the shopping cart at the store and landed on his head. I just knew we were going to have to take him to the hospital. He only cried for a few minutes and was back to chasing his brother around the stacks of dog food bags. A couple of days later Callie fell down concrete stairs. She only had a tiny scratch on her little face. I could tell more stories about how our Lord really is protecting us from Satan's attempts.

We truly love it here. The City is beautiful and the people are very friendly. Our house is in the city and in a great neighborhood.

We arrived during Mexico's two week cultural celebration and were able to attend a youth orchestra performance.

Sharon is very excited to have found a little store that sells Dr. Pepper, and we found that they also have peanut butter here. With what Spanish we know we are able to get around town and to go to the store and market.

Out of the mouths of Babes

During "Family Time" I asked the kids for prayer requests. When I asked Callie what she thought we should pray for, she replied, "Dog".

Every time we go to the playground and Coby sees other kids, he says, "Look dad, Spanish kids". (I don't know who he expects to see.)

Facts about Mexico

Street signs and traffic lights are for decorative purposes only. When Mexicans try to impress you with their English, it is called "Spanglish". (Just smile and say, "Si").

If you need bottled water or propane gas, you just need to flag down one of the many trucks that drive up and down the street.

Stores do not refrigerate eggs.

All houses are built with showers, no tubs.

He who has the biggest truck, goes first at an intersection.

I wish I could sleep like that.
